Student teaching assistant

For the seminar “Animal Sociality I & II” I am looking for a motivated student teaching assistant (Bachelor or Master student) to help manage the seminar. This semester the teaching format will be completely digital and asynchronous, and the teaching assistant will be responsible for organizing the course material on Ilias.

The position is initially for May - July 2020 for a total of 60h and potentially extendable. You will have the autonomy to organise your time as you see fit.

An interest in behavioural biology, especially social animal behaviour, is expected, but detailed knowledge of the topic is not compulsory.

Please direct inquiries and applications (short CV, motivation letter) to: Gisela Kopp, gkopp@ab.mpg.de
